President's Corner

Dear EAC members: When one door closes, another opens up, thanks to Heather who gratefully offered her temporary help as a secretary. She is doing a great job! Also we gained two new members: Lavonna O'Korn and Fran Belair. Welcome to our organization. Both of them are already offering meaningful help; Lavonna did a nice advertising sign for the library show. It has an interesting graphics expression that we can use as a logo for EAC. It fits perfectly what we do and want to accomplish. I will ask you for your approval. Also, thanks to Fran for offering her help at the Brighton show.

All the information for the 501c3 is organized and in place, now my husband can help me to review it before I ask for your approval. Our show at the library looks very nice. We have had several complements. For those of you who have not seen it, I am including some pictures on our website. I want everyone to get involved with the different things that are going on for your benefit. The EAC, the community, the quality of our lives all increase the possibility of getting our 501c3 status. That gives us the possibility to have money to do a better job and grow.

We have our last free class of this series at the Broomfield Library; it is open to the public. Please come and participate. Thanks to Heather, we also have nice articles for the Denver Post through the Internet for the month of March: If you control-click on <http://dpo.st/zXXzgb> you get the Feb meeting best creation by Isolde. And on <http://dpo.st/znEHcA> you get Creating a focal point while using Recyclables by Isolde. Congratulations Isolde.

We are all creators! Just get involved a bit more and more each time.

Randy is going to show us how to create art using paper utensils and candy wrappers. We are looking forward to learn from him.

In our past meeting we had several suggestions to increase the number of visitors to our shows. Definitely we will be incorporating them as time goes by.
