President's Corner

Dear EAC members:

We are welcome our Visitors from the March meeting: Esther Luben, Reggie Liesveld, Martha Aguayo and Patricia M Brunson (Tica)

Since we are always devoted lovers and protectors of our Mother Earth, let's keep finding new ways to lessen our trash by converting it into beautiful art or crafts.

Specially, when it is fun to do it!

Day by day learning of new possibilities for creating art from recyclables grow. So far, we have not done everything that is possible to do with any one of the recyclables we have used, let alone we have not used all the recyclables that we can use. So, let's keep focused in this important aspect in order to keep growing.

We celebrated the Earth Day with a class at the library on April 26. Now we are going to do it again on May 1st from 9 to 12 AM. so please help to find more participants.

I am still working on grants, but unfortunately I have not found the right one yet and some of them were scams but most of all require a matching capital at front and we don't have one.

We applied for the opportunity to teach classes at the Broomfield Recreation Center, but they want me to sign a contract applicable to a large company. We will keep doing the best to make of Eco Art Creators a true value for humanity and ourselves.

Aura
