President's Corner

Dear EAC members: If things were slow before because I am working on the 501c3, now they are slower because Ann Hopkins is not with us anymore. She was the secretary and in charge of the Newsletter. So for a while, please be patient with my poor English, but be contaminated from my enthusiasm in our project which is of a great value to all of us and the community.

The 501c3 is almost done. Everything that is relevant is taken into account and now I am reviewing things. My husband had been a help to me as he always is. There is an issue I want to emphasize about the 501c3 is that we all have a very important requirement to satisfy in order to get the Tax Exempt Status and it is to carry on activities that are oriented to the benefit of the community. For that purpose I organized the free classes at the Broomfield Library. I still have one opening on March 24th from 1 to 5 PM for one or two instructors. You can teach anything you want in this field as long as the work and materials are friendly to the nice conference rooms that we are going to use.

Also we will be displaying our 2D art on the wall and 3D art in the cabinet at the library for the whole month of April. Remember that Earth day is on the 22th. Please bring your ideas to our next meeting. It behooves us to do something about it! It is also a nice way to get known by the community and get new members for the club. So I hope you are coming up with a lot of creations and you can contribute by sharing the wonders in your mind about art with recyclables with the community in a form of a class and ideas for the Earth Day celebration. Please let me know how what you want to do.

Now that we have our web page in operation, don't hesitate to use it and to share your ideas with us and throughout the world on it. Distribute the address as to many people as you can. Nobody will know about us if we don't tell them about what we do.

See you soon, Aura
